THE RAILROAD ACCIDENT.

The accident on the Virginia Midland Railroad at Cave Creek bridge, No. 2 near Rockfish, thirty-seven miles east of Lynchburg, yesterday morning about half past nine, by which the material train of that road was thrown down an embankment, six feet deep, and eight or nine cars totally wrecked, was correctly reported in yesterday's Gazette, but further information received at the depot in this city, gives the list of the killed and wounded as follows: Capt. J. A. Williamson, of this city, conductor of the train and Richard Randolph, a colored laborer of Lynchburg, were killed instantly, and it is probable they never knew what hurt them. Mr. H. D. Lockett, of Charlottesville, the assistant road master, who was standing on the platform when Capt. Williamson was killed, and how he escaped instant death is a mystery that will remain unsolved. (Chairmen: Capt. John A. Wilson, Ellis Johnson, Wm. J. Brown, John Green, Abraham H. Hays, Henry Mitchell, Joseph Mitchell, Edward Hays and Charles Anderson, colored laborers, were injured, some of them seriously. Joseph Mitchell was so mangled about the leg that amputation was necessary. The bridge was very slightly damaged, and the track which was a new one, remained in good condition. All damage was repaired immediately, the wreck removed, and the trains delayed only six hours. Three of the wounded men, Chairman Cox, John Wilson and J. H. Green, and the remains of Captain Williamson were brought to this city last night. Captain Williamson served through the late war as a member of the Old Dominion R. R. and was a gallant soldier. He has been on the Virginia Midland Road for twelve or thirteen years and was considered one of the most efficient men in the employ of that company. His funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock, from his late residence on Henry street.

THE ENTERTAINMENT LAST NIGHT.

Savanna Hall was well set out, with a red and white canopy and a witness to the entertainment to be given by Prof. S. or George Reid Cromwell, the art illu. from N. Y. The entertainment was all that was claimed for it—entirely in the high art degree. All the magnificent buildings, cathedrals, palaces, and cities of Italy, together with the wonderful works of art that have attracted the attention of the world, were presented with the vividness of reality, in a form attractive and grand, and all present expressed themselves as highly delighted. The evening was, without doubt, well spent. The Professor is an easy, fluent speaker, with just wit enough to make everybody feel in a good humor. To-night the subject will be "Paris, the beautiful city," and those who are fortunate enough to be present, will undoubtedly receive the worth of their money.

MIXED JUBILES IN CULPEPER.

We cheerfully comply with the request of the Culpeper Times and insert the following from that paper: "The Alexandria Gazette, of the 20th has the following item: 'Judge Bell, of Culpeper, had a mix-jubilee at his hall in his court yesterday, which excited considerable amusement.' This and he says to our people. How and the sun such a part originated. It is beyond our power to report. It will be a good subject for another article, and a mention was made of a colored jury, but the judge promptly and pointedly refused, and gave excellent reasons for so doing. We must that our Alexandria friend will properly make correction of the injury done Judge Bell by this article." We published the item from information derived from a reliable gentleman, who was undoubtedly misinformed.

POSTPONED.

FROM WASHINGTON.

Special Correspondence of the Alexandria Gazette.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 24, 1880.

Neither house of Congress was in session to-day.

The Appropriations Committee of the House will hold a special meeting on Monday next to consider the Indian appropriation bill as to report that bill and cut it out of the way as soon as possible.

The Ways and Means Committee of the House held a meeting at noon to-day to still further consider Mr. Wood's proposition to refund the national debt on 34 per cent bonds.

Among the claims that Mr. Wood has asked to be withdrawn from the files of the Senate and referred to the Committee on Claims, is that of John V. Washington, of Fairfax county, Va., for 2,500 cords of wood, at $1 per cord, but it is against the rules of the Senate to allow this withdrawal inasmuch as there have been two addresses reports upon it.

The House Committee on the Judiciary, Judge Harris of Virginia, residing in the absence of the chairman, Mr. Keitt, met this morning and heard the following named female slave upon the inhumanity of the act of the House to refuse to refund the national debt.

Mrs. Elizabeth Montgomery McLean, of Indiana; Miss Josephine White, of Indiana; Mrs. Catherine A. L. Sweeney, of Michigan; Mrs. Elizabeth A. L. Sweeney, of Michigan; Mrs. L. B. Blake, of New York; Mrs. Matilda Judy Gage, of New York; Miss Peter W. Gage, of Missouri; and Miss Susan B. Anthony, of New York. The ladies, as a whole, presented very fair arguments of the woman's side of the question, and one of them—that of Miss Gage, who is a handsome and attractive woman, apparently about twenty-five years of age—was really eloquent. The audience, with one or two exceptions, was composed entirely of members of the committee and delegates to the Woman's Suffrage Convention. Mrs. Dr. Walker was a quiet and subdued looking spectator. She did not possess a word of admission, but the doorkeeper said he let her in because he was afraid she had a pistol and might create a disturbance if he refused to admit her.

When the committee rose, Susan B. asked one of her female admirers if she was ashamed of her language of the speech she had just made. To which the friend replied:

"Just as soon as I should be ashamed of my own, as when I blush, be this my shame, that I am more ashamed of my name."

A colored man named John Singleton, formerly of Alexandria, but now a waiter in the Senate restaurant, was tried this morning before a magistrate for a debt he owed G. A. Lumpkin, a colored boarding house keeper of Alexandria. Lumpkin acted as his own counsel, but not being a resident of the District, he was given an adjournment of the trial, which he did, with Judge Willoughby as surety. He was found guilty, and an execution in the shape of an attachment upon Singleton's wages will be issued next week.

The Maine Boodle.

The fusion Legislature at Augusta, yesterday discussed a statement to be submitted to the Supreme Judicial Court and adjourned without action. Last night the republican Governor determined to partition the State House and proceed to a more permanent residence, and the fusionists, in a building in town, the loyalty of some of the troops to republicanism was suspected, and a coup d'etat was apprehended. Sunday sessions of the court were current, and day sessions have become somewhat scarce. One of the reports was that a plot to burn the residence of the leading Augusta republican, had been discovered. Transcripts of papers marked the domestic residence. They were taken on after dark.

Colored Jury Refused.

At the Court on Monday Mr. Alden A. Bell, counsel for Andrew Johnson, being tried for felony, made a motion for a colored jury. Judge Bell denied the motion and in his remarks stated that the present law gives him the power of discriminating in the selection of his jurors. The law is a good one as such can be made, and in his honor's view, made it imperative upon the judges to discriminate against men neither intellectually nor morally qualified to serve. As long as this law remains on the statute books—and it ought never to be tampered with—he should continue to select the best men he could secure. At every term he discriminated against white men not having the proper moral or intellectual qualifications. —Culpeper Times.

N. Y. Religious Service.

Quite a large congregation attended the Episcopal Church last Wednesday evening at the service of Rev. Job Turner, a deaf mute lately ordained a deacon by Bishop Whitham, and assigned to mission work among the deaf and dumb. The Rev. Dr. Gaudelet, of New York interpreted the sign language of Mr. Turner as readily as the sign language of the deaf and dumb in general. The father of Dr. Gaudelet was the founder of institutions for the deaf and dumb in America, the first having been established at Hartford, Conn. The services on Wednesday evening were very interesting, and gave evidence of the good that might be accomplished by such a mission. —Winchester Times.
